The Island

The Paul Diamond Designs kitchen islands are designed and built to work hard for your family for several generations. These workstations are made from the finest North American hardwoods, steel and hardware available.

The work tops and bases are hard maple sourced from American Northeast forests. Maple has long been the standard for food preparation surfaces for good reason. Maple is a closed grained hardwood which has smaller pores, making it superior for blocking bacteria, moisture, and stains.

The bar-height table can be made from your choice of American Black Walnut or Cherry hardwoods. Both offer a beautiful gathering and eating surface for family and friends.

Our islands are made to fit kitchen spaces of all sizes, even limited kitchen spaces.

Each piece is signed, numbered and dated. My signature is our promise of quality to you and yours. Call us when you are ready to join our family on a trail to superior quality. Your great granddaughter will thank you.
